

Foil Stamping & Embossing Association

October 14, 2004

To Whom It May Concern:

We contracted with Ed Rigsbee for our 2004 annual conference where he conducted both a main, key-note program and a workshop later that same day. Ed was extremely easy to work with and really created programs that included information our association members could use.

Ed went out of his way to learn more about our industry before the meeting and customized his discussions specific to our audience. Ed's programs were upbeat, entertaining, and motivating. I will definitely consider Ed for further programs down the line and would highly recommend him.

Sincerely,
